

This location now has a Safe Area in place, as outlined in section 13\(C\) of the Contraception, Sterilisation and Abortion \(Safe Areas\) Amendment Act 2022, which was gazetted on 27 July 2023.

Certain behaviours that may be distressing to a person accessing or providing abortion services or attempting to stop a person from accessing or providing these services are prohibited within a Safe Area.

Examples of prohibited behaviours include:

- blocking entrances to premises or preventing people from entering or leaving
- photographing or videoing someone in a manner that is likely to cause emotional distress to someone accessing or providing abortion-related services
- approaching a person to provide information about abortion services (unless part of the provision of services)
- approaching a person to attempt to dissuade them from accessing these services
- providing anti-abortion pamphlets or similar materials (unless part of the provision of services, or by a person who is accompanying the person accessing services)
- engaging in protest about matters relating to the provision of abortion services.

A person convicted of engaging in prohibited behaviour within a Safe Area may be liable for a fine of up to $1,000.

You can find more information about Safe Areas, the prohibited behaviours and the regulations on the Ministry of Health's website.
